echo 360

Lunch and Learn

The Center for Teaching and Learning

invites you to a "Lunch and Learn" to learn about Echo360, our institution's instructional video platform.

Join us to hear from Professor Insert Name
on how s/he uses Echo360
to enhance her/his course content and to engage students.

Professor Insert Name uses Echo360 to:

- Record his/her lectures and makes them available to students for review after class
- Create short video modules to explain difficult concepts and shares them with individual students needing additional help
- Poll students in class to gauge whether or not they are understanding key concepts
- Assign students participation points and export them into our LMS gradebook
- Identify which students are struggling in class through his/her instructor dashboard

We hope to see you at the event!

What: Lunch and Learn: Echo360, our instructional video platform. Lunch will be served.

When: Day / Date
Start Time - End Time

Where: Location

Who Should Attend:
Instructors who have used or are new to the Echo360 platform. Also, instructors who are currently creating video content or polling their students using other solutions for video creation and polling.

RSVP: Name / Email Address
Phone Number / Space is limited, so please RSVP by Date.

Following Professor Insert Name's use case discussion, Insert Name from the Center for Teaching and Learning will demonstrate the Echo360 platform from the student's perspective to give attendees a sense of how students benefit from using Echo360.